

Steel of West Virginia, Inc. presented the “Governor’s Award for Excellence in Industrial Energy Efficiency”

WV Secretary of Commerce Keith Burdett (R) presents the Governor’s Award for Excellence in Industrial Energy Efficiency to Tim Duke, President of Steel of West Virginia

Morgantown, W.Va.--One West Virginia steelmaker discovered that saving energy brings its own rewards.

Steel of West Virginia, Inc. of Huntington, W.Va. received the “Governor’s Award for Excellence in Industrial Energy Efficiency” at West Virginia University’s Industries of the Future—West Virginia Day luncheon in Charleston, on Tuesday, January 18th. The producer of steel sections was recognized for its work “partnering with IOF-WV during the past decade and achieving energy cost savings of more than $2 million per year through implementation of energy efficiency measures.”

IOF-WV is a program of the West Virginia Development Office, the West Virginia Division of Energy, and the National Research Center for Coal and Energy at West Virginia University.